

THE HAZEL GREEN HERALD.

SPENCER COOPER, Owner and Editor.

• "Of a Nasty World, With News From All Nations Lumbering at His Back." •

$1.00 A YEAR, Always in Advance.

ELEVENTH YEAR.

HAZEL GREEN, WOLFE COUNTY, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, JULY 25, 1895.

NUMBER 18.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our Special Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, July 19, 1895.

Will there be another bond issue, or an extra session of congress? Those questions are being discussed, notwithstanding Secretary Carlisle's statement that there is nothing alarming about the government's finances. It is known that the bond syndicate wants another issue of bonds which under their contract would have to be sold to them at the old price, if issued previous to October 15, next, and that it expects to get it. Prominent democrats have protested against another issue of bonds, advising instead the calling of an extra session of congress, if the Treasury finds itself unable to get along until the regular session. But there is no certainty that congress, which will be strongly anti-administration, would provide the money in time, even if an extra session were called. It is predicted that unless there should be an unexpected large increase in the revenues of the government within the next three months the gold reserve will have to be encroached upon to meet ordinary obligations. Meanwhile there is always danger that gold speculators may draw the gold out.

Secretary Hoke Smith left for Georgia today to take part in the state campaign and to explain to the democratic voters why he changed from silver to gold after he became a member of Mr. Cleveland's cabinet. The explanation he gave in Washington was that he never studied the question until he entered the cabinet, but that may not go down in Georgia. Smith thinks and dreams of little else but his desire to succeed Gordon in the senate. It seems rather queer that just as Mr. Smith is going into Georgia to preach against silver that ex-Speaker Crisp, who will be one of Smith's opponents in the fight for that seat in the senate, and who is a silver man, or says he is, should be getting ready to make a European tour for his health.

Verily, politics is an uncertain game. This is constantly being brought to mind, but there has been no more striking reminder of it than the assertion made here this week by ex-Senator Sanders of Montana, that the republicans of Montana were in favor of the nomination of John Sherman for President. It would not have been more astonishing had Senator Hill declared in favor of a third term for Mr. Cleveland, or the latter gentleman in favor of the nomination of the former. Let some one should suppose this statement to be manufactured the words of ex-Senator Sanders are appended: "You can say for me that Montana thinks that John Sherman is the man for the place, and, although we have been informed by him that he would not accept the nomination if it were offered him, our delegation will cast a complimentary vote for the great financier."

According to the latest story current in Washington, President Cleveland is about to spring a surprise on those democratic senators and representatives who still refuse to abandon their advocacy of the free coinage of silver, and to endorse the "sound money" policy laid down by President Cleveland and Secretary Carlisle. This surprise is to be the removal of every Federal office holder appointed on the recommendation of a silver senator or representative, as fast as men recommended by "sound money" democrats can be agreed upon to take their places. That would be an Andrew Jackson sort of policy sure enough, but, in view of President Cleveland's civil service reform professions, it is difficult to believe that he really contemplates putting such a policy into effect, although prominent members of his party believe it and endorse it too. Should such a program really be carried out it would mean a change in more than half of the Federal offices in the south, unless the men who now hold them should placate the administration by declaring for "sound money." Such a policy would make certain President Cleveland's control of the next democratic National convention, serious mistake both for him and his party. It would not be the first time, nor the second, that an administration has tried to muzzle the opponents of its policy. But in no case in which this muzzling process has been resorted to has the administration which tried it or the party it represented been the gainer thereby. It is obnoxious to the American sense of fair play. Argue with a man and convince him, if you can, but don't shut his mouth by threats or force. I believe that this story has been put afloat more as a bluff than with any serious intention to really carry it out.

Names of Kentucky Towns and Counties.

The Capital Printing Company has just sent out to the county seats of Kentucky something more than six hundred thousand assessment blanks. The man who acted as shipping clerk was reminded anew that those who have occasion to keep track of the names of counties and county seats of Kentucky, must keep their wits clear and memory green on account of similarity of names.

For instance: Owenton is in Owen county and Owingsville is in Bath county; Burlington is in Boone county and Booneville is in Owsley county; McKee is in Jackson county, and Jackson is in Breathitt county; Elizabethtown is in Hardin county, and Hardinsburg is in Breckinridge county; West Liberty is in Morgan county, and Morgantown is in Butler county; Bardwell is in Carlisle county; Nicholas is in Nicholas county; Leitchfield is in Grayson county; Leitchfield is in Grayson county; Richmond is in Carter county; Richmond is in Madison, Madisonville is in Hopkins, and Hopkinsville is in Christian county; Manchester is in Clay, and Clay City is in Powell county; Lebanon is in Marion, and Marion is in Crittenden county; Frankfort is in Franklin, and Franklin is in Simpson county; Shelbyville is in Shelby county; Albany is in Clinton, and Clinton is in Hickman, and Hickman is in Fulton county; Jamestown is in Russell, and Russellville is in Logan county; Georgetown is in Scott, and Scottsville is in Allen county; Newport is in Campbell, Campbellsville is in Taylor, and Taylorsville is in Spencer county; Greensburg is in Green, Greenville is in McMinn, Bowling Green is in Warren, and Hazel Green is in Wolfe county.

Wayne County Tragedy.

MONTICELLO, Ky., July 20.—Mrs. Nancy Slavens, who had lived in this county all her life and reared a large family, has been murdered at her home on Big South Fork, near the old Beatty oil well. Mrs. Slavens owned considerable property, the control of which is thought to have been the incentive for the crime. She is also said to have been a pensioner and to have laid by a considerable sum of money, which has probably gone into the pockets of the murderer and his accomplices.

Several grandchildren of Mrs. Slavens lived with her and worked on the farm. They claim that the aged woman shot herself with a pistol belonging to one of them. The ball had entered between the seventh and eighth ribs, ranged upward and broke her neck. The coroner's jury returned a verdict that she came to her death by a pistol shot fired by the hand of some unknown person.

Read THE HERALD and be happy.

MR. LYKINS AND THE TAXPAYERS.

Wolfe County Court of Claims, 1894.

Ordered that J. C. Lykins be allowed $85.00 for services as bridge commissioner.

Ordered that J. C. Lykins be allowed $50.00 for services as bridge commissioner.

Ordered that J. C. Lykins be allowed the sum of $50.00 for his services as jail commissioner.

Ordered that J. C. Lykins be allowed $26.71 as interest on $218.72 for two months and twenty days. (This is 57% interest.)

Ordered that J. C. Lykins be allowed $97.08 for collecting $244.10 tax due from the Kentucky Union railroad. (This is over 50% for collection. It was his official duty to collect it for nothing.)

STATE OF KENTUCKY, ) WOLFE COUNTY, ) SCT:

I, J. B. Hollon, Clerk of the Wolfe County Court, certify the foregoing as true copies of orders as shown on record in my office.

Witness my hand this June 8, 1895.

J. B. HOLLON, C. W. C. C.

By RICHMOND HOLLON, D. C.

I was Probate Judge of Wolfe county in 1894, and at the request of the chairman of the State Board of Equalization of Kentucky, I appointed as committee, J. C. Lykins, C. C. Hanks, Howard Stamper and Jonas Vansant, who in company with myself went to Frankfort to show cause why the taxes of Wolfe county should not be raised above the assessment. Mr. Lykins went to Louisville and never appeared before the Board. Still he charged the people of Wolfe county $18.22, amount of expenses of said trip.

J. A. TAUBER, Ex-Judge of Wolfe County.

Mr. Lykins was county attorney at the time the above claims were allowed, and it was his official duty to act without pay. Besides it is not Democratic to charge such prices for a few hours service.

S. J. Salyer, county attorney for Morgan county, served his people in a like capacity in inspecting the bridges over the North Fork and Licking rivers and never charged a cent for his services.

Besides receiving the above large claims and many others also, Mr. Lykins received a salary of $400 per annum for his services as county attorney.

Which will you vote for, Mr. Lykins, a representative of corporations, or Mr. Rose, a man of the people?

AN ASIATIC LION

Loose in the Wilds of Morgan county and is Heading This Way.

We were informed by a lady who resides near Paragon, Ky., who was in town Saturday, that great excitement prevails up in Morgan county in the Painter branch neighborhood, and not far from Yocum Springs, on account of a very large and savage looking wild beast that roams at large in the timbered country playing and havoc with the sheep and hogs that are so unfortunate as to fall within his observation.

This monster of the forest was first discovered about two weeks ago by some children who were out gathering huckleberries about one mile from Painter branch school house. It was near half past four o'clock in the afternoon and night was just beginning to spread her somber mantle over Painter branch vicinity, where, owing to the dense pine trees that dot the mountain side the God of Darkness takes his throne much earlier than in this, the bluegrass region of the state, and as the children were silently wending their way down one of the dark ravines so common in Morgan county, imagine their horror, when upon turning a sharp curve in the gulch there right before them, not more than twenty feet ahead stood the most savage and ferocious monster their innocent eyes had ever beheld. The animal was standing midway the cow path that leads out into the large branch with one foot resting upon the half devoured carcass of a good sized calf, which he was greedily devouring when first interrupted by the children.

The oldest of the children was a boy of 14 years of age, who describes the beast as being of a dirty yellow color, standing about four feet high large cat-like eyes, heavy main and bushy tail, large legs with feet or paws something like the size of a common skifflet. The children became much frightened at the beast and fled back up the gulch and across the hill home by another way, which threw them much into the night. When the children arrived home they were half scared to death, and at once related their experience to their father, who the next morning secured the services of his neighbors and a pack of hounds, and was soon on the trail of the animal, and after about three hours trailing the dogs succeeded in scenting the strange monster, which the father of the children firmly declares to be a genuine Asiatic lion. The lion was found by the dogs in a thick patch of laurel bushes, not far from where the children saw it. The dogs chased it fifteen or twenty miles, and finally run it in a large cave, which is located on a stream known as Black Water. Around the entrance of this cave the ground was literally covered with bones.

A large posse has been organized to find and capture the animal, but as yet we have failed to learn of their success.—Morehead Advance.

MANY STAMPS

Demanding by Increasing Revenue Collections.

That the internal revenue receipts are picking up the daily report of Henry L. Godsey, superintendent of the stamp vault of the Internal Revenue Bureau, shows beyond all question. Superintendent Godsey has charge of all the internal revenue stamps, and it is his business to fill the orders of the collectors. Here is the order for stamps shipped July 18: Tobacco, $48,985; snuff, $89.25; cigars, $100,140; cigarettes, $10,000; beer, $901,000; spirits (whisky), $1,483,350; special tax, $14,000; oleomargarine, $5,440. Total, $2,618,564.25.

The stamps for spirits were ordered by the collector for the Springfield (Ill.) district, where most of the Trust goods are held. Kentucky collectors have also been sending in large orders, which indicate withdrawals of whisky at $1.10 a gallon. The shipment of stamps for the present month averages about $700,000 a day.—Sunday Courier-Journal.

School Per Capita Increased.

FRANKFORT, Ky., July 15.—The Auditor to-day announced an increase of five cents on the common school per capita. This will not be particularly gratifying news to those who were expecting to make a howl on this score, but it will be good news to the Democrats none the less. In speaking of the increased school fund, Supt. Thompson says:

"Notwithstanding the fact that the school population of Kentucky has run up to nearly 728,000, the Auditor's estimate of funds available for common school purposes enables me to declare for the school year ending June 30, 1896, a general per capita of $2.39. To this is to be added interest on county bonds."

Subscribe and send in job work.

STORM SWEEP

And Half a Million Damage Done in The Oil Fields.

FINDLAY, OHIO, July 19.—One of the most destructive windstorms that ever visited Northwest Ohio, passed through Findlay this afternoon. The sun had been shining brightly all day, and but for a gentle breeze that blew from the south the heat would have been almost unbearable.

At three o'clock, however, dark clouds began to gather to the southwest, and about an hour later a heavy rain began to fall, which in a few minutes turned to hail, and was accompanied by a cyclone, which soon swept over the city, coming from the southwest. Several houses in the outskirts of the city were blown from their foundations, and a dozen more were unroofed. A wagon belonging to the American Express Company was overturned on Main street, and the driver narrowly escaped with his life. Awnings and signs were blown about promiscuously, and a number of plate-glass windows were destroyed by coming in contact with flying signs. Trees were blown down, and on a number of streets traffic has been suspended until the debris can be removed. The bell tower at the Central Engine House was blown down, precipitating the bell onto the roof of the barn, in which four of the horses were standing, and completely wrecking the building, but the horses escaped without injury. The path of the cyclone was confined to a space of several hundred feet, and its path west of the city limits is marked by overturned oil derricks, unroofed barns and uprooted orchards. The loss in the oil field will reach several hundred thousand dollars, and it is estimated that the damage to property in the city will reach $500,000. The damage to fruit trees and the growing corn is hard to estimate, but will reach well up into the thousands. No one was seriously injured, but a large number of people received slight injuries by being hit by falling trees. The cyclone lasted about five minutes, and after the wind quit blowing the clouds all disappeared, and the rain passed away as quickly as it came.

Rate and Rattle Snakes.

DANVILLE, Ky., July 18.—Thompson J. Bailey, the well-known revenue man, now on duty at Curley's Distillery, in Jessamine county, tells the story of the remarkable victory won by a rat in a battle with a rattlesnake. The snake was five feet six inches long, and was caught in the cliffs of the Kentucky River and sold to a country storekeeper, who imprisoned the reptile in a box covered with glass and exhibited it as a curiosity to his customers. The groceryman caught a rat and a large frog and put them in the box for the snake to dispose of. The following morning the frog was missing, but his rattle was still upon the scene of action, and apparently indifferent to the snake's presence. The rat remained undisturbed all that day, but the groceryman confidently expected the snake to make a meal off the rodent that night. In this, however, he was mistaken. The next morning when he examined the box he found the snake dead, and the rat perched upon its head. A large place in the snake's hide showed that the rat had satisfied his hunger with a dish of rattlesnake. The box gave evidence of a struggle between the snake and rat, and marks upon the snake's body showed that the rat had been gnawing at his teeth that the snake had with its fangs. The rat was uninjured, and was kept as a curiosity.

Bring us your job work and read THE HERALD.

TALMAGE.

The Discipleship Six Against The Holy Ghost.

In his sermon for July 14, Rev. Dr. Talmage, who is still in the West on his annual summer tour, chose a subject which has been a fruitful theme of theological disputation for centuries past, viz.: "The Unpardonable Sin." The texts selected were: "All manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men; but the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men. And whosoever speaketh a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him; but whosoever speaketh against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, neither in the world to come." Matthew xii. 31, 32.

"He found no place of repentance, though he sought it carefully with tears." Hebrews xii. 17.

As sometimes you gather the whole family around the evening stand to hear some book read, so now we gather—a great Christian family group—to study this text; and now may one and the same lamp cast its glow on all the circle! You see from the first passage that I read that there is a sin against the Holy Ghost for which a man is never pardoned. Once having committed it, he is bound hand and foot for the dungeons of despair. Sermons may be preached to him, songs may be sung to him, prayers may be offered in his behalf; but all to no purpose. He is a captive for this world, and a captive for the world that is to come. Do you suppose that there is any one here who committed that sin? All sins are against the Holy Ghost; but my text speaks of one especially. It is very clear to my own mind that the sin against the Holy Ghost was the scribbling of the works of the Spirit to the agency of the devil in the time of the apostles. Indeed, the Bible distinctly tells us that. In other words, if a man had sight given to him, or if another was raised from the dead, and some one standing there should say, "This man got his sight by satanic power; the Holy Spirit did not do it, but Beelzebub accomplished it;" or, "This man raised from the dead was raised by satanic influence; the man who said that dropped down under the curse of the text, and had committed the fatal sin against the Holy Ghost.

Now, I don't think it is possible in this day to commit that sin. I think it was possible only in apostolic times. But it is a very terrible thing over to say anything against the Holy Ghost, and it is a marked fact that our race has been marvellously kept back from profanity. You have a man swear by the name of the Eternal God, and by the name of Jesus Christ, but you never heard a man swear by the name of the Holy Ghost. There are those here today who fear they are guilty of the unpardonable sin. Have you such anxiety? Then I have to tell you positively that you have not committed that sin, because the very anxiety is the result of the movement of the gracious Spirit, and your anxiety is proof positive, as certainly as anything that can be demonstrated in mathematics, that you have not committed the sin that I have been speaking of. I can look off upon this audience and feel that there is salvation for all. It is not like when they put out with those life-boats from the "Loch Earn" for the Villa du Heron. They knew that there was not room for all of the passengers, but they were going to do as well as they could. But today we man the life-boat of the gospel, and we cry out over the sea, "Room for all!" Oh that the Lord Jesus Christ, would, this hour, bring you all out of the flood of sin, and plant you on the deck of the glorious old gospel craft!

But while I have said to you that it is possible for us to commit the particular sin spoken of in the first text, I have by reason of the second text to call your attention to the fact that there are sins which, though they may be pardoned, are in some respects irrevocable; and you can find no place for repentance, though you seek it carefully with tears. Esau had a birthright given him. In olden times it meant not only temporal but spiritual blessing. One day Esau took this birthright and traded it off for something to eat. Oh, the folly! But let us not be too severe on him, for some of us have committed the same folly. After he had made the trade he wanted to get it back. Just as though you tomorrow morning should take all your notes and bonds and government securities, and should go into a restaurant, and in a fit of recklessness and hunger throw all those securities on the counter and ask for a plate of food, making that exchange. This was the one Esau made. He sold his birthright for a mess of pottage, and he was very sorry about it afterward; but "he found no place for repentance, though he sought it carefully with tears."

There is an impression in almost every man's mind that somewhere in the future there will be a chance where he can correct all his mistakes. Live as we may, if we only repent in time, God will forgive us, and then all will be as well as though we had never committed sin. My discourse shall come in collision with this theory. I shall show you, my friends, as God will help me, that there is such a thing as unsuccessful repentance, that there are things done wrong that always stay wrong, and for them you may seek some place of repentance, and seek it carefully, but never find it.

Belonging to this class of irrevocable mistakes is the folly of a misspent youth. We may look back to our college days, and think how we neglected chemistry or geology, or botany, or mathematics. We may be sorry about it all our days. Can we ever get the discipline or the advantage that we would have had had we attended to those duties in early life? A man wakes up at forty years of age and finds that his youth has been wasted, and he strives to get back his early advantages. Does he get them back—the days of his boyhood, the days in college, the days under his father's roof? "Oh," he says, "if I could only get those times back, how I would improve them!" My brother, you will never get them back. They are gone, gone. You may be very sorry about it, and God may forgive you, so that you may at least reach heaven; but you will never get over some of the mishaps that have come to your soul as a result of your neglect of early duty. You may try to undo it; you can't undo it. When you had a boy's arms and a boy's eyes and a boy's heart you ought to have attained to those things. A man says at fifty years, "I do wish I could get over these habits of indolence." When did you get them? At twenty or twenty-five years of age. You can't shake them off. They will hang to you to the very day of your death. If a young man, through a long course of evil conduct, undermines his physical health, and then repents of it in after life, the Lord may pardon him; but that does not bring back good physical condition. I said to a minister of the gospel one Sabbath at the close of his sermon, "Where are you preaching now?" "Oh, I say, 'I am not preaching. I am suffering from the physical effects of early sin. I can't preach now, I am sick.' A consecrated man he now is, and he mourns bitterly over early sin; but that does not arrest their bodily effects.

The simple fact is that men and women often take twenty years of their life to build up influences that require all the rest of their life to break down. Talk about a man beginning life when he is 21 years of age; talk about a woman beginning life when she is 18 years of age! Ah, no! In many respects that is the time they close life. In nine cases out of ten, all the questions of eternity are decided before that. Talk about a majority of men getting their fortunes between 10 and 20. When you tell me that a man is just beginning life, I tell you he is just closing it. The next fifty years will not be of as much importance to him as the first twenty.

Now, why do I say this? Is it for the annoyance of those who have only a baleful retrospection? You know that is not my way. I say it for the benefit of young men and women. I want them to understand that eternity is wrapped up in this hour; that the sins of youth we never get over; that years are now fashioning the mold in which your great future is to run; that a minute, instead of being sixty seconds long, is made up of everlasting ages. You see what dignity and importance this gives to the life of our young folks. Why, in the light of this subject, life is not something to be frittered away, not something to be smirked about, not something to be danced out, but something to be weighed in the balances of eternity. Oh, young man! if the sin of yesterday, the sin of tomorrow, will reach over ten thousand years, ay, over the great and unending eternity. You may, after awhile, say, "I am very sorry. Now, I have got to be 30 or 40 years of age, and I do wish I had never committed those sins." What does that amount to? God may pardon you; but undo those things you never will, you never can.

In this same category of irrevocable mistakes I put all parental neglect. We begin the education of our children too late. By the time they get to be 10 or 15 we wake up to our mistakes, and try to eradicate this bad habit, and change that; but it is too late. That parent who omits, in the first ten years of the child's life, to make an eternal impression for Christ, never makes it. The child will probably go on with all the disadvantages which might have been avoided by parental faithfulness. Now you see what a mistake that father or mother makes who puts off too late life adherence to Christ. Here is a man, who at 50 years of age says to you, "I must be a Christian," and he yields his heart to God, and sits in the place of prayer today a Christian. None of us can doubt it. He goes home and says, "Here at 50 years of age I have given my heart to the Savior. Now I must establish a family altar." What? Where are your children now? One in Boston; another in Cincinnati; another in New Orleans; and you, my brother, at your fiftieth year going to establish your altar? Very well; better late than never; but alas, alas, that you did not do it twenty-five years ago!

When I was in Chamouni, Switzerland, I saw in the window of one of the shops a picture that impressed my mind very much. It was a picture of an accident that had occurred on one of the Swiss mountains. A company of travelers, with guides, went up some very steep places—places which but few travelers attempted to go up. They were, as all travelers are there, fastened together with cords at the waist, so that if one slipped the rope would hold him—the rope fastened to the others. Passing along the most dangerous point, one of the guides slipped, and they all started down the precipice; but after awhile one more muscular than the rest struck his heels into the ice and stopped; and the rope broke, and down, hundreds and thousands of feet, the rest went. And so I see whole families bound together by ties of affection, and in many cases walking on slippery places of worldliness and sin. The father knows it and the mother knows it, and they are all bound together. After awhile they begin to slide down steeper and steeper, and the father becomes alarmed, and he stops, planting his feet on the "Rock of Ages." He stops, but the rope breaks, and those who were once tied fast to him by moral and spiritual influences, go over the precipice. Oh, there is such a thing as coming to Christ soon enough to save ourselves, but not soon enough to save others!

How many parents wake up in the latter part of life to find out the mistake! The parent says: "I have been too lenient," or "I have been too severe in the discipline of my children. If I had the little ones around me again, how different I would do!" You will never have them around again. The work is done, the bent to the character is given, the eternity is decided. I say this to young parents—those who are 25 or 30 years of age—have the family altar to-night. How do you suppose that father felt as he leaned over the couch of his dying child and the expiring son said to him, "Father, you have been very good to me. You have given me a fine education, and you have placed me in a fine social position; you have done everything for me in a worldly sense; but father, you never told me how to die. Now I am dying, and I am afraid."

In this category of irrevocable mistakes, I place, also, the unkindness done the departed. When I was a boy, my mother used to say to me sometimes, "Do Witt, you will be sorry for this when I am gone." And I remember just how she looked, sitting there, with cap and spectacles, and the old Bible in her lap, and she never said a truer thing than that, for I have often been sorry since. While we have our friends with us, we say unguarded things that wound the feelings of those to whom we ought to give nothing but kindness. Perhaps the parent, without inquiring into the matter boxes the child's ears. The little one, who has been in the street, comes in covered with dust, and, as though the first disaster were not enough, she whips. After awhile the child is taken, or the parent is taken, or the companion is taken, and those who are left say: "Oh, if we could only get back those unkind words, those unkind deeds; if we could only recall them!" But you can not get them back. You might bow down over the grave of that loved one, and cry and cry—the white lips would make no answer. The stars shall be plucked out of their sockets, but these influences shall not be torn away. The world shall die, but there are some wrongs immortal. The moral of which is, take care of your friends while you have them; spare the scolding; be economical of the satire; shut up in a dark cave, from which they shall never swarm forth, all the words that hurt the conscience in them. You will wish you had some day—very soon you will have—perhaps to-morrow. Oh, yes. While with a firm hand you administer parental discipline, also administer it very gently, lest some day there be a little slab in the cemetery and on it chiseled, "Our Willie," or "Our Charlie," and though you bow down prone in the grave, and seek a place of repentance, and seek it carefully with tears, you can not find it.

There is another sin that I place in the class of irrevocable mistakes, and that is lost opportunities of getting good. I never come to a Saturday night but I can see during that week that I have missed opportunities of getting good. I never come to my birthday but I can see that I have wasted many chances of getting better. I never go home on Sabbath from the discussion of a religious theme without feeling that I might have done it in a more successful way. How is it with you? If you take a certain number of bushels of wheat and scatter them over a certain number of acres of land, you expect a harvest in proportion to the amount of wheat scattered. And I ask you now, have the sheaves of moral and spiritual harvest responded with the advantages given? How has it been with you? You may make resolutions for the future, but past opportunities are gone. In the long procession of future years all those past moments will march; but the archangel's trumpet that wakes the dead will not awake up for you one of these privileges. Esau has sold his birthright, and there is not wealth enough in the treasures of heaven to buy it back again. What does that mean? It means that if you are going to get any advantage out of this Sabbath Day, you will have to get it before the hand wheels around on the clock to 12 to-night. It means that every moment of our life has like a hawk in circles, but in a straight line from eternity to eternity. It means that though other chariots may break down, or drag heavily, this one never drops the brake, and never ceases to run. It means that while at other feasts cups may be passed to us and we may reject it, and yet after a while take it, the cup-bearers to this feast never give us but one chance, we shall "fine" no place for repentance, though we seek it carefully with tears.

There is one class more of sins that I put in this category of irrevocable sins, and that is lost opportunities of usefulness. Your business partner is a proud man. In ordinary circumstances, say to him, "Believe in Christ," and he will say, "You mind your business, and I'll mind mine." But there has been affliction in the household. His heart is tender. He is looking around for sympathy and solace. Now is your time. Speak, speak, or forever hold your peace. There is a time in farm life when you plant the corn and when you sow the seed. Let that go by, and the farmer will ring his hands while other husbandmen are gathering the sheaves. You are in a religious meeting, and there is an opportunity for you to speak a word for Christ. You say, "I will do it." Your cheek flashes with embarrassment. You raise half way, but you cover before men whose breath is in their nostrils, and you sag back, and the opportunity is gone and all eternities will wait for the effect of your silence. Try to get back that opportunity! You cannot find it. You might as well try to find the fleece that Gideon watched, or take in your hand the dew that came down on the locks of the Bethlehem shepherds, or to find the plume of the first robin that went across paradise. It is gone! It is gone forever. When an opportunity for personal repentance or of doing good passes away, you may hunt for it; you cannot find it. You may fish for it; it will not take the hook. You may dig for it; you can not bring it up. Remember that there are many sins that can never be corrected; that our privileges fly not in circles, but in a straight line; that the lightnings have not as swift feet as our privileges when they are gone, and let an opportunity of salvation go by us as an inch, the thousandth part of an inch, the millionth part of an inch, and not a man can overtake it. How wonderful seraphim can not come up with it! The eternal God himself can not catch it.

I stand before those who have a glorious birthright. Esau's was not so rich as yours. Sell it once, and sell it forever. I remember the story of the lad on the Arctie some years ago—the lad Stewart Holland. A vessel crashed into the Arctic in the time of a fog, and it was found that the ship must go down. Some of the passengers got off in the lifeboats, some got off on rafts; but 300 went to the bottom. During all those hours of calamity, Stewart Holland stood at the signal guns, and it sounded across the sea, boom! boom! The helmsman forsook his place. The engine was gone, and some faint ed and some prayed and some blasphemed, and powder was gone, and they could no more set off the signal gun. The lad broke in the magazine and brought more powder, and again the gun boomed over the sea. Oh, my friends tossed on the rough seas of life, some have taken the warning, have gone off in the life-boat, and they are safe; but others are not making attempt to escape. So stand at this signal gun of the gospel, sounding the alarm, Beware! beware! "Now is the accepted time; now is the day of salvation." Hear it that your soul may live!

Among the numerous persons who have been cured of rheumatism by Chamberlain's Pain Balm, mention should be made of Mrs. Emily Thorne, of Toledo, Wash., who says: "I have never been able to procure any medicine that would relieve me of rheumatism like Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I have also used it for lame back with great success. It is the best liniment I have ever used, and I take pleasure in recommending it to my friends. For sale by J. M. Rose."

We had an epidemic of dysentery in this vicinity last summer," says Samuel S. Pollock, of Brice Land, Cal. "I was taken with it and suffered severely until some one called my attention to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I procured a little and felt better after the first dose. Before one-half of the bottle had been used I was well. I recommended it to my friends and their experience was the same. We all unite in saying it is the best." For sale by J. M. Rose.

W. J. SEITZ, WITH W. M. KERR & CO., FORMERLY IN Hardware & Agricultural Implements, IRONTON, O.

WITHOUT A RAG

A Wild Woman Roams the Woods in Mercer County, Ohio.

CELINA, O., July 15.—Every county in this section of the country has had its people greatly excited by the appearance of a wild man or woman, an escaped lion, tiger or leopard or some other wild animal from a passing show. Here, too, Mercer county has been singularly free from any such visitation. This county now comes to the front with a wild woman. Near Coldwater, a small village southwest of this city, is where this mysterious creature was first discovered, and the inhabitants of that usually quiet little place are now worked up to a fever heat of excitement and consternation. Since the discovery of this wild creature small children are afraid to venture out on the streets even in the day time.

Nobody goes to the woods, unless it is absolute necessity, for fear of meeting this creature. Strong and robust men are afraid to encounter her single handed. The discovery that a wild woman was running at large, and might at any moment be seen at your door, has spread a gloom of fear and anxiety over Coldwater. The "wild woman" is the sole topic of conversation in and around Coldwater.

The Enquirer correspondent visited the little village this morning and learned the following facts: Friday afternoon, as Henry Wapellhorst was returning from the country on his wheel, and when passing the old Lernartz farm, about three miles west of Coldwater, he suddenly came upon a woman sitting on the end of a culvert. When within about 15 feet of Mr. Wapellhorst she turned and, seeing him, sprang down into the ditch and through a flood gate, from which she had torn two or three palings.

Mr. Wapellhorst immediately sprang from his wheel and followed this strange creature down through corn, and lost her in a large woods containing about 200 acres. Wapellhorst then returned to Coldwater and gave the alarm, and immediately gathered a posse of about 100 men, who started in pursuit, and continued the search all day Saturday and Sunday, but without result, although evidence of her having been in these woods was frequently discovered. At one place she was tracked to a ditch, and the impressions of her hands and knees in the soft mud, where she had stooped to get a drink of water, were plainly evident.

In this vicinity her tracks were measured, and are about eight inches long. Mr. Wapellhorst and Henry Hemmelghern, both of whom have seen this crazy creature, describe her as being a woman about 35 years old, tall and muscular, with heavy black hair hanging about her shoulders, and as free from the habiliments of woman as was Eve when she first wandered into the Garden of Eden. She has feet-footed, and evidently a powerful woman. Some of the jumps she made while being pursued down through the cornfield by Mr. Wapellhorst measure over eight feet. Her body was dirty and badly tanned from exposure.

"Could you give me a dime to get something to eat?" asked the wanderer.

"I sincerely wish I could aid you," answered the high-browed young man, "but at present I am saving every cent to attend the Christian Endeavor Convention."

Mrs. Gadabout—Yes, the stolen goods were found on her. Of course, she defends herself by claiming to be a kleptomaniac.

Mrs. Updatode—How foolish. You know kleptomaniacs has gone out. Hypnotism is the correct defense now.

Cawker—Barlow made a rash prediction just now.

Cumso—What did he say?

Cawker—He said that the time would come when it would be responsible to be honest.

Hills—That girl would make a very economical wife.

Dills—What makes you think so?

Hills—She seems to be a girl of little or no waist.

Try The Herald for one year.

Stuttering Cured.

I want every stutterer in the United States to write to me at once. I can cure the worst case in a short time, was once the most inveterate stutterer in the land; I know the trouble you have and can relieve you of it. I refer all stutterers to Dr. W. B. Sanford and Dr. G. G. Buford, Memphis, Tenn. I have a fine sanitarium where I treat patients for stuttering and all nervous troubles. I board all my patients cheaply; when you write send stamp for reply. I cure by mail if desired.

G. W. RANDOLPH,
Memphis, Tenn.

Don't Stop Tobacco.

The tobacco habit grows on a man until his nervous system is seriously affected, impairing comfort, health and happiness. To quit suddenly is too severe a shock to the system, as tobacco, to an inveterate user becomes a stimulant that his system continually craves. Baco-Curo is a scientific cure for the tobacco habit in all its forms, carefully compounded after the formula of an eminent Berlin physician who has used it in his private practice since 1872 without a failure, purely vegetable and guaranteed perfectly harmless. You can use all the tobacco you want while taking Baco-Curo—it will notify you when to stop. We give a written guarantee to permanently cure any case with three boxes, or refund the money with 10 per cent interest. Baco-Curo is not a substitute, but a scientific cure, that cures without the aid of will power and with no inconvenience. It leaves the system as pure and free from nicotine as the day when you took your first chew or smoke. Sold by all druggists, with our iron-clad guarantee, at $1.00 per box, three boxes (30 day's treatment) $2.50, or sent direct upon receipt of price. Send six recent stamps for sample box, booklet and proofs free. Eureka Chemical & Manufacturing Company, manufacturing chemists, La-Crosse, Wisconsin.

The Lexington Business College.

(Incorporated in the State of N. C.)
Highest Official Endorsement, the Government of the Commonwealth, the President of the State College, and the Secretary and Treasurer of the Security Trust and Safety Co., all endorsing this college.
RECORDED IN THE OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF THE STATE, N. C., as a college of successful graduates, who receive aggregate hundreds of thousands of dollars per annum. The President of the State College, and the Secretary and Treasurer of the Security Trust and Safety Co., all endorsing this college.
REFERENCES: Scores of the most successful business men who are in the employ of the Government, and the Secretary and Treasurer of the Security Trust and Safety Co., all endorsing this college.
EXCELLENT AND HIGHEST AWARD, "All the best of the world," given to the International Business College, N. C., for the system of business instruction used in this college. Head of the Department of the International Business College, N. C., for the system of business instruction used in this college. Head of the Department of the International Business College, N. C., for the system of business instruction used in this college.
THE PRACTICAL SCHOOL OF THE SOUTH.
(Incorporated in the State of N. C.)
Highest Official Endorsement, the Government of the Commonwealth, the President of the State College, and the Secretary and Treasurer of the Security Trust and Safety Co., all endorsing this college.
RECORDED IN THE OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF THE STATE, N. C., as a college of successful graduates, who receive aggregate hundreds of thousands of dollars per annum. The President of the State College, and the Secretary and Treasurer of the Security Trust and Safety Co., all endorsing this college.
REFERENCES: Scores of the most successful business men who are in the employ of the Government, and the Secretary and Treasurer of the Security Trust and Safety Co., all endorsing this college.
EXCELLENT AND HIGHEST AWARD, "All the best of the world," given to the International Business College, N. C., for the system of business instruction used in this college. Head of the Department of the International Business College, N. C., for the system of business instruction used in this college. Head of the Department of the International Business College, N. C., for the system of business instruction used in this college.

Kentucky Democratic State Platform.

FIRST—The Democracy of Kentucky in convention assembled congratulate the country upon the repeal of the McKinley tariff law, and upon the evidence we have on every hand of returning prosperity, under the operations of reduced and equalized taxation; and we denounce as fraught with danger and disaster the threat of our Republican adversaries to re-establish a protective tariff and to reinaugurate a policy of unequal taxation, which in connection with general misgovernment by the Republican party culminated in the business panic of 1893.

SECOND—The Democratic party, which has always stood for the separation of church and state, for the sake alike of civil and religious freedom, does not hesitate to condemn all efforts to create a distinction among citizens because of differences in faith as repugnant to an enlightened age and abhorrent to the instincts of American freedom.

THIRD—We reaffirm without qualification the principles and policies declared by the National Democratic Platform of 1892, and declare that our present National Democratic Administration is entitled to the thanks of the party for its honest, courageous and statesmanlike management of public affairs, and we express our undiminished confidence in the Democracy and patriotism of President Grover Cleveland and his distinguished coadjutor and Secretary, John G. Carlisle, of Kentucky.

FOURTH—When the Democratic party came into power in 1867 the bonded indebtedness of Kentucky was over $4,600,000. The nominal value of the assets of the sinking fund was about $8,000,000, made up in part of internal improvements that cost over and were carried at a valuation of $4,800,000, but which yielded at that time no net revenue, and were worth in cash only about $500,000, thus showing an actual deficit in the sinking fund as compared with our indebtedness of about $4,000,000. Since 1867 the bonded indebtedness has been reduced to $650,000, and the available assets of the sinking fund more than equal that sum.

We have increased the annual appropriation for support of our charitable institutions from $250,000 in 1867 to $800,000 in 1895, and while improving our judicial system by increasing the number of courts and the frequency of their terms we have been compelled to increase our expenditures, one of the greatest items of which is the cost of criminal prosecutions, and a not inconsiderable item in connection with which is the increase in greatest districts controlled by Republican officials. We have nevertheless been able to decrease the current rates of taxation for general revenue purposes from twenty cents to one hundred dollars of taxable property in 1867 to fifteen cents in 1895. The Democratic majority have voluntarily increased the annual expenditures for the support of common schools from $250,000 in 1867 to about $2,000,000 in 1895, and by wisely providing separate schools for the two races are today giving to the children of the colored race opportunities for education they nowhere else enjoy.

In the face of unexampled difficulties the Democracy of Kentucky has succeeded in wholly withdrawing convict labor from competition with free labor and in abolishing the practice of leasing the convict labor of leasing the convicts to parties interested solely in making profit out of their labor, and in adopting the modern and improved methods by which the state and its officers are made directly responsible for the management of our state prisons and under which our penitentiary system has been and is being greatly improved.

During the twenty-eight years the people have entrusted the Democratic party with the control of the state government its administration has been characterized by the strictest economy and integrity, and in this regard we invite comparison with any Republican state government.

FIFTH—We express our confidence in the wisdom and honesty with which the present state administration has conducted the affairs of our state government.

THE HERALD and Courier-Journal $1.75 a year.

Constipation & Biliousness

Sick-headache, Pains in the back, Sallow complexion, Loss of appetite and Exhaustion.

There is only one cure, which is DR. RAY'S LIVER PILLS—AND—TONIC PELLETS

One Pink Pill touches the liver and removes the bile.

One Tonic Pellet touches, acts as a gentle laxative in keeping the bowels open, restores the digestive organs, tones up the nervous system and makes new rich blood. Complete treatment, two medicines, one price, 25c.

Treatise and sample free at any store. BROWN BROS. CO. New York.

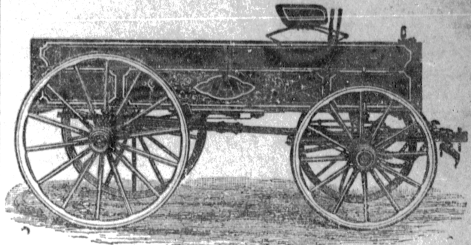

BRING YOUR JOB WORK TO THE HERALD OFFICE if you want good work at reasonable prices.

JOHN H. ROSE,

PRACTICAL

BLACKSMITH AND WAGON MAKER,

HAZEL GREEN, KY.

I make a specialty of building Farm and Road Wagons, use only the Best Material, and guarantee satisfaction.

CALL AND GET MY PRICES, and when you need anything of the kind give me your order.

Patronize Home People, Get Only Honest Work, and Be Happy.

In the Horse Shoeing and Repair Department I employ only skilled labor, every man being an artist in his specialty, and your work is respectfully solicited.

WHEN YOU FEEL RUN DOWN And all worn out, then strength and health fail. If you want to enjoy in its fullness that buoyancy of health and spirits that add so much to the forces and pleasures of life, use that greatest of all medicinal remedies,—

Dr. King's Royal Germetuer

It will give you Appetite. It will give you restful, refreshing Sleep. It will stimulate your Digestion. It will restore your Nervous Energy. It will Purify your Blood. It will change your weakness into Strength. It will bring you out of sickness into Health.

KING'S ROYAL GERMETUER CO., Atlanta, Ga.

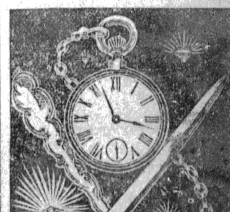

TABLER'S PILE BUCK EYE OINTMENT CURES NOTHING BUT PILES. A SURE AND CERTAIN CURE known for 15 years as the BEST REMEDY FOR PILES. SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS. Prepared by RICHARDSON MED. CO., ST. LOUIS.

PATENTS FOR INVENTIONS. CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS, COPYRIGHTS.

CAN I OBTAIN A PATENT? For a prompt, accurate and an honest opinion, write to J. A. TAUBEE, JR., a Patent Attorney, with 15 years' experience in the Patent business. (Communications sent confidentially.) He will advise you of the best course to pursue in securing a patent, and will prepare and prosecute your case. He will also advise you of the best course to pursue in securing a patent, and will prepare and prosecute your case. He will also advise you of the best course to pursue in securing a patent, and will prepare and prosecute your case.

Going to Lexington?

CALL ON Fred. J. Heintz, Manufacturing Jeweler, Custom House Square.

PRESENTS FOR EVERYBODY.

Our Prices

WITHIN YOUR REACH.

J. A. TAUBEE, JR., Physician and Surgeon, HAZEL GREEN, KY.

Surgeon and Obstetrics a specialty.

H. B. MAUPIN, WITH REED, PEEBLES & Co., WHOLESALE DRY GOODS, NOTIONS, Ac., &c. PORTSMOUTH, OHIO.

THE HERALD BOOK AND JOB PRINTING HOUSE HAZEL GREEN, KY.

THE HERALD.

SPENCER JOOPER, : : : Editor.

HAZEL GREEN, KY.
THURSDAY, July 25, 1895.

DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET.

For Governor,
P. WAT HADDIN, of Mercer.

For Lieutenant Governor,
R. T. TYLER, of Fulton.

For Treasurer,
R. C. FORD, of Clay.

For Auditor,
L. C. NORMAN, of Boone.
For Register of the Land Office,
G. B. SWANGO, of Wolfe.

For Attorney General,
W. J. HENDRICK, of Fleming.

For Secretary of State,
HENRY S. HALE, of Graves.

For Supt. of Public Instruction,
ED PORTER THOMPSON, of Owen.

For Commissioner of Agriculture,
ION B. NALL, of Louisville.

EVERY Democrat in Morgan and Wolfe counties should go to the polls on Saturday and vote.

JO. BLACKBURN won another splendid victory last week at Lexington, Fayette county. The result there gives him three additional votes for senator.

MR. LYKINS, candidate for representative, registered at the Day House twice last week at midnight. He realizes fully the box he is in, and we hope he is prepared to meet his fate.

Let every friend of Judge Swango and Pomp Kendall give McCreary a slap in the face for his conduct at the late Democratic State convention. You can do so by voting for Robert G. Rose.

"The wages of official sin is death." This is the text on which the people will preach Mr. Lykins' funeral after next Saturday. You see, Jo, you must answer for the deeds done by yourself while you were our county attorney.

SOME of the pious brethren don't like Elder Howard's criticism of Dr. Talmage. To those we respectfully ask a second reading and an impartial hearing of both sides. You will find the Dr. is not without inconsistencies.

WHITE caps took three notorious characters from the Booneville jail a few night since, and gave them a sound thrashing. Two of them were ladies(?) and the other a gent. After they were flogged they were returned safely to the jailer.

Let every man who is a friend to Judge Swango and Pomp Kendall go to the polls next Saturday and vote for "Rose. McCreary whom Mr. Lykins represents has always been our enemy and did all he could to defeat both of our candidates in the State convention, while Gen. Buckner and Jo Blackburn both were for us.

THE HERALD is flat footed against McCreary and therefore for any man to defeat him. As the situation now presents itself, Gov. Buckner is our choice, but should he go down in defeat, then we are for anybody to beat McCreary. Our desire for his defeat has, among other things, caused us to espouse the cause of Mr. Rose, and not anything personal that we have against Mr. Lykins, who has always treated us courteously.

THESE are dull times, fellow citizens, and there is no use waiting for something to turn up as many of you are doing. Go to work and turn something up is the proper thing to do. Just pull off your coat and spit on your hands and hard times will cease knocking at your door. Try it. You can't make matters worse at all hazards.

ROBT. G. ROSE, candidate for the legislature from this district, has been confined to his home and bed by illness since last Friday evening, and on this account his friends should turn out en masse at the primary on Saturday. A full vote of his friends is necessary to his selection, and his illness should not prevent them from standing by him.

KENTUCKY is a state which enjoys a more general prosperity than any other state in the Union. The real cause of this condition is that there are but few rich men and a very small number of exceedingly poor ones. Wealth is more nearly equally distributed. It goes to show that in the bluegrass state they must live pretty well up to the motto of "live and let live." Under such conditions, too, happiness must be more general than elsewhere.—Astoria News.

Lord have mercy on the others.

GEN. BUCKNER is a man that stands by the people. When he was Governor of the state and the treasury was depleted he put to the state's credit $50,000 of his own money, which the state used free of charge for a considerable time. The tax payers should remember this and return the compliment by defeating Mr. McCreary. The old soldier and statesman has always been the friend of the people and especially of the mountains.

We do not know how true it is but the rumor is in circulation that "hoodle" and lots of it will be used to elect Mr. Lykins, who is said to favor Mr. McCreary for United States senator. And it is just as currently rumored that McCreary is himself putting up the staff. Can our people afford to tolerate anything of this kind, and will they do it, are questions that can be answered at the primary on Saturday. How do you stand on the situation?

JOHN C. WOOD, of Montgomery, was nominated for Railroad Commissioner in the Third district at Richmond last night. A great deal of wrangling was indulged in during the afternoon. In the evening a colored orator was given the lie by a Covington delegate. The orator rebuked his insulter with the reminder that ladies were present and came out with flying colors. Wood defeated Comings on the tenth ballot.—Courier Journal.

MR. WOOD has had a hard time getting this nomination and it is a great victory for him. It is an empty honor as Keller (Democrat) is a sure winner.

HON. JAMES B. MCCREARY is a slick citizen in politics, and an oily-tongued individual in general, but the remarks he is said to have made about our mountain people should prevent them from casting any vote that would be likely to benefit him in any way. A vote for Mr. Rose will "settle his egg-bread" for the place of United States senator, and if you like your mountain people you should show it by defeating the man who sought to defame them.

HAZEL GREEN will after all have a fair this year, and it is proposed to make it the best in point of entertainment ever yet held. The old directors having refused to hold their fair this year, a new company was last week formed and the title of the association changed to that of the Hazel Green Racing Association. Dr. Floyd Lockhart, of Ezel, was elected president; John W. Rose, of this place, vice president; W. T. Caskey, of this place, treasurer; H. C. Quicksall, also of Hazel Green, secretary.

A COMMITTEE from this county will appear before the Chamber of Commerce in Lexington today (Thursday) for the purpose of discussing the practicability and prospects of the proposed railroad from Mill Creek to Caney, and it is quite probable that some definite plans may be agreed upon. This road would be a God-send to the people of this section, a great feeder to Winchester and Lexington, and a blessing to mankind in general. By all means let it be built, and the sooner the better.

Editor John C. Wood.

In nominating Mr. John C. Wood, of this city, for Railroad Commissioner of the Third District, we think the Republicans have named their strongest man. Mr. Wood since, and even before, his majority, has been a faithful party worker. He is a party man to the extent of being a partizan. He has advocated and emphasized the most extreme measures of his party. For him to know that a man was a Republican or a measure a Republican scheme was all Mr. Wood needed to make him rally to the support of the man of measure. He has done this, too, not when it was popular, but when he knew he was lending a "forlorn hope," and if he does not receive the full vote of his party, they will prove themselves the veriest ingrates. The very fact that Mr. Wood has such strong claims on his party will only be the more reason why the Democratic vote of the district shall be solidified against him. His bitter partisans will not be forgotten by them when they go to the polls.

Personally Mr. Wood is a courteous affable gentleman, exceedingly popular in his own county; and the hard work he has done for his party certainly entitles him to a degree of popularity in the party ranks of which no other man in the district is more deserving. If by any manner of means, a Republican should slip into the office, we know of none we could wish more with more toleration see fill it than our friend and competitor in business, John C. Wood.—Mt. Sterling Advocate.

A Man Throws His Wife From a Train.

PITTSBURG, PENN., July 19.—Harry Pruden, an employee of the Westinghouse Air Brake Company, is charged with having made a dastardly attempt to murder his wife early this morning by throwing her from a passenger train on the Pennsylvania railroad, near Torren's station. Although Mrs. Pruden is badly cut about the head, face and body, her escape from instant death under the wheels of the train is considered almost miraculous. Pruden escaped. Mrs. Pruden was invited to a lawn fete. She lives at 185 Second avenue, and her husband being separated. She was accompanied by a friend. Her husband and a lady friend were at the fete. Late in the evening Pruden met his wife, resurrected some old scores against her, and declared he would have revenge.

When they boarded the train for home Mrs. Pruden had to stand on the platform of a crowded car. She says her husband came out of the car, braced himself against the side of the door and tried to force her off with his foot. Finding he could not accomplish his purpose in that manner he wrenched her hands loose and threw her headlong from the train. She struck on the ballast head first and rolled along on the ground for several feet. She screamed when she fell and thus attracted the attention of the trainmen. The train was immediately stopped. The woman was found lying between the tracks in a dazed condition and bleeding from a half dozen cuts on her head and face.

Now that the schools are all being opened, parents should see that the boys and girls step to the top of the bell every day from now till the end of the session. Then send them to the Hazel Green Academy, where neither time nor pains are spared in their preparation for duties that will shortly devolve upon them as citizens of the country.

Louis & Gus STRAUSS

THE LEADING
Clothing House

—OF—
KENTUCKY!

Largest Stock,

Lowest Prices.

Best Goods,

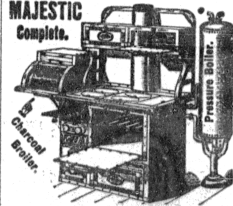

When in Lexington do not fail to give us a call.

Louis & Gus Strauss,
Main St., Opposite Phoenix Hotel,
Lexington, Ky.

Majestic Steel Ranges.

Competition Not in the Race.
Our reputation

MAJESTIC Complete.

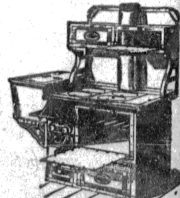

for handling only strictly firstclass goods is proof positive that is superior to all others.

THE MAJESTIC STEEL RANGE

Twenty-two of these Ranges sold in ten days is pretty good work for these times, and goes to show that the goods are what they are represented to be. And we propose to sell Seventy-five by January 1st, 1895. So come now, and

BUY A MAJESTIC BE HAPPY.

Induce your neighbors to buy one and they will be happy. They are the greatest COOKING STOVES. Cooking becomes a pleasure instead of drudgery. A full line in stock at all times at prices within the reach of any.

A COOK-BOOK, with description of Range, sent to any address.

W. W. REED,
MT. STERLING, KY.

THE HERALD.

FOR THE LEGISLATURE.

We are authorized to announce Joseph L. Lusk, of Campton, as a candidate for the next legislature, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce Ron-ney C. Root, of Lee City, Wolfe county, as a candidate to represent the counties of Morgan and Wolfe in the next legislature, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

FOR RAILROAD COMMISSIONER.

We are authorized to announce John C. Wood, of Montgomery county, as a candidate for the office of Railroad Commissioner in this, the third district, subject to the action of the Republican party.

Religious Services.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.
Services at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. fourth night in each month, by the pastor, J. M. Little.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH.
Morning services conducted by W. H. Ford. Prayer-meeting Wednesday night at 8 p. m. Sunday-school at 9:30 a. m.

METHODIST CHURCH.
Services at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. first night in each month, by the pastor, Rev. J. W. West. Prayer-meeting Thursday night at 8 p. m. Sunday-school at 9:30 a. m.

Subscribe for your county paper.

Do not fail to read the supplement, if you find one in your paper.

WANTED.—A good cook, washer and mender. Good wages. Apply at this office.

Lorna Linden began the Frank Rose school last Monday with a good attendance.

Clay Lacy began his school on the 10th and has flattering prospects for the coming season.

Carl Miss and Berry Pieratt made a trip to West Liberty last week. Carl came back! (?)

Uncle John McCue, who has been on the sick list for some time, was able to go to town last Saturday.

Who will you vote for? Mr. Lykins, representative of corporations, or Mr. Rose, a man of the people?

Hot weather proves depressing to those whose blood is poor. Such people should enrich their blood with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Mr. Peace Weller, of Mays Lick, a sister of Mrs. Ware, of this place, died last Saturday and was buried Monday.

The heavy rains have brought a good deal in many of the creeks and rivers, and the log men are busy getting ready for the market.

Judge Ballin Kask spent from Friday till Monday conversing through parts of Morgan county, and he reports a large vote for Mr. Rose.

Mrs. J. B. Thompson, Mrs. S. R. Perkins and Mrs. Green Brewer, a lady visitor from Lane, paid our office a pleasant call on Saturday.

Henry Pieratt, our efficient postmaster, has been suffering lately from acute rheumatism. He fears it will necessitate another trip to Hot Springs.

Every man should go to the polls and vote next Saturday. The man who votes ought never to grumble at discontent and rental officials.

Richmond DeBusk begins his school at Lee City school-house next Monday. Richmond is a good teacher and we best wish him a successful school.

J. P. Kash and Misses Laura Rawlins, Minnie Day and Maggie Kash, all of Hazel Green, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Day—Jackson Hustler.

Register G. B. Swango, arrived here Monday evening from Frankfort, and will remain until after the primary on Saturday next, in which he will vote.

Charles Shively, a popular Louisville drummer spent several days in our midst last week. He is a red hot anti-McCue man and consequently is for Rose.

Grant Lacy is teaching at the Hollis school-house and reports a fine beginning. The school will certainly prosper under Mr. Lacy's management.

Howard DeBusk begins his school at Lee City school-house next Monday. Howard is an old and experienced teacher, and will doubtless render the best of satisfaction.

Will Perry, ("Farmer Bill") of West Liberty, who is now traveling for the power grocery house in Paris, Kentucky, made the HERALD office a short visit Tuesday.

Grant Lacy began his school at the Hollis school-house last Monday. Grant is an old-time student of the Hazel Green Academy, and is a most excellent teacher.

Mrs. Ellen Swango, who has been visiting relatives and friends in Mt. Sterling for some time, returned here Monday, accompanied by her brother-in-law, George A. Swango.

Mrs. H. F. Pieratt and her two little sons, Herald and Tom, returned from a two week's visit with friends and relatives at St. Helena and Jackson. They report an enjoyable time.

Edgar Kash will begin his school at the Gillispie school-house next Monday. Every boy and girl in the district should avail themselves of the splendid opportunity of getting an education.

Mr. Broad, of New York, who has charge of the new road to be built from the Lexington and Eastern road through Wolfe and Morgan counties, says the road will be built without doubt.—Winchester Democrat.

WEDONIA, KY., July 19, 1895.—Dear Sir:—Please announce in THE HERALD that I will begin the Powell county teachers' institute Monday, August 5, at Stanton. Yours, W. H. CORD.

The postmaster at Stillwater notified us that THE HERALD did not "turn up" at his town. We are sorry such is the case. They were promptly mailed and should have been delivered at the regular time.

Mrs. Tom Jones and family, of Mt. Sterling, visited the family of J. M. Sterling, at Hazel, last week. She is now with her sister, Mrs. J. T. Day, of this place, and will pay her friends and relatives a protracted visit.

Will Pieratt, who has been a salesman at Campton for some two or three years, is now behind the counter of H. F. Pieratt, of our town. Besides being strictly business he is most courteous and polite, and we gladly welcome him to our midst.

THE HERALD men was one guest out of twenty at Mrs. John D. Henry's not long since, and to say her table fairly groaned with good things from the culinary art would be putting it mildly. She is certainly a most charming hostess.

Miss Florence Quickall began her school at the Harve Vest school-house last Monday, and prospects are most encouraging for the coming season. Miss Florence is a competent teacher and we commend her to the good people of that community.

The postoffice at Tolliver is now at Clark's store. Miss Etta Swango has been postmistress for two years and has rendered entire satisfaction. Her resignation was sent in last week and William Clark, jr., a clever and accomplished young man, was appointed in her stead.

Eppin Mannin and P. Lawson, with their families, have returned from Illinois to their native heath near Hazel. The boys gave credit for fighting the chinch bugs on the prairie and soon concluded that "Old Kaintuck" was only away for anybody. They were only away three months.

Let every man attend the primary next Saturday and vote his sentiments. A vote for Lykins means a vote for McCue, for United States senator, and certainly no man who was a friend to the late Hon. W. P. Taubee, or who desires to pay proper respect to his ashes, will vote for a man who is for McCue.

A man named Garrett, probably a brother of Green Garrett, in Powell county, was struck by lightning on Sunday morning, and died at 4 o'clock Tuesday morning. The tree struck him on the head breaking the skull, allowing the brain to come out. He never regained consciousness from the time he was struck until death came to his relief.

A report was current in this section last Sunday that Elder J. A. Howard had been ambushed in Rowan county and was being taken to a place to be killed. It was a rumor, and was refuted by a sermon with reference to old troubles in Morehead. It turned out to be the story of a man who was out to be a maker and wholly without foundation. Elder Howard is carrying on a successful meeting at the present time with many conversions.

Elder L. S. Dutton, of Beattysville, evangelist for the Christian church, who has been preaching in Rowan county for some time, and Elder J. A. Howard, well known to the readers of THE HERALD, arranged for a joint discussion to be held at Morehead. When the time came for the debate Bro. Dutton was not present. Elder Howard was the only one who took with him the readers of THE HERALD. Elder Dutton has not yet explained the cause of his absence.

NEW YORK, July 18, 1895.—Dear Bro. Cooper:—I am coming to Kentucky in a few days—soon as I take in the sights of the metropolis, so that your subscription book for the time being. Came from Jacksonville, Florida, via Charleston, S. C., by steamship "Cherokee," and had a most pleasant run. Charleston harbor, with its Moultrie, Sumpter, etc., is full of interest and beauty, and New York harbor, you know, ranks among the finest in the world. Hope to see you soon in Wolfe. Truly yours, L. C. DEMAREE.

We are agreeably surprised in the amount of the public school fund this year. The newspapers and school men had figured it out at various sums from $240 to $275. The assessment last fall fell of several million dollars and it was thought the per capita would also fall off, and conservative estimates placed it about $2.60. Superintendents and especially teachers, will be glad to know this estimate is entirely too low and the official figures place it at $2.80. To this will be added interest on the county bond due from the State which in Clark county amounts to about two cents. From the total must be deducted a sufficient sum from all the larger districts to bring the public fund due all districts reporting less than forty-five pupils, up to the amount of money which they would receive if they reported the standard. This is in order to give every district at least five months school. For the past few years this has taken about three cents per pupil, reducing the per capita to a figure one cent less than the State per capita. If this holds good this year the next sum will be $2.75 per pupil.—Winchester Democrat.

On the 13th inst. Bethel Congregational Sabbath-school entertained about six hundred people at a Sunday-school celebration in the pine grove near Bethel church. Six Sabbath-schools were represented. The schools marched into the grove with songs on their lips and gladness in their hearts, after which the J. W. Doane gave an address of welcome to all. After an intermission of social intercourse and dinner were addressed by Robert Cecil the Richmond Holton. Sandfield and Point Union schools favored us with some good singing. Rev. Doane then gave a short address and held an old-fashioned experience meeting, in which great power was manifest. All voted the celebration an entire success. H. H. STAMPER.

Jim McCue, with Trimble Ross, grocers of Mt. Sterling; Bill McCullough, with Stuart, Henley & Co., grocers of Cincinnati; Bill Manker, with H. Crish, grocer of Catlettsburg; and Bill Perry, with the Power Grocery Co., of Paris, Kentucky, were all registered at the Day House on Tuesday. To cap the climax, Judge Davis, representing the State, and Co., of Cincinnati, Ohio, drove in about 4 o'clock p. m. and registered at the same place. One would suppose that a famine existed in this community for something to eat and wear, but such is not the case, as can be testified to by the said quindot, who ate of the edibles in the said hotel.

One of the sweetest presents yet received by the editor and his better j was a pound of honey brought through from Monterey, California, by Mrs. Sweetnam, of that place. Mrs. Sweetnam was formerly Miss Jane Lawson, daughter of William Lawson, near Maytown, but she has been in many years lived in the "golden state" of the Pacific slope, where she has a pleasant home and a happy family consisting of her husband and nine children. She is a most interesting conversationalist, and can entertain any number of her friends with accounts of her western home and the scenery, etc., surrounding the same. In addition to the honey, presented to us she also gave our better j several specimens of the beautiful shells found on the beach of the Pacific. The poetry published elsewhere in THE HERALD to the spiry was written by a daughter of Mrs. Sweetnam, and is said to be true to life.

Religious.
Rev. Marion Centers preached at Laurel Sunday. We failed to get the names of other preachers.

Rev. Dunsagan preached at a good congregation at the bridge school-house on Stillwater, last Sunday.

Rev. J. T. Pieratt preached a meeting at the Blackwater school-house below Maytown, last Friday. He had a fine meeting and much interest was manifested.

Rev. H. H. Taylor will preach at Oakdale, in Breatheth county, the fourth Sunday in this month. He will preach at Holly, Wolfe county, the first Sunday in next month.

Rev. H. H. Taylor preached to a large congregation at the Harst school-house, on Stillwater, Sunday, Six were baptized. He was assisted by Bros. Tyra, Roberts, Crum and Collier.

Great preparations are being made by the Hazel people for the big August meeting to be held by Elder Howard. It will undoubtedly be the largest religious assembly ever held in the mountains.

Lightning Hot Drops.
What a Funny Name!
Very True, but it Kills All Pain.
Sold Everywhere. Every Day
Without Relief, There is No Pain!

Better Than Ten Tears.
"I have suffered with female trouble and general weakness for ten years, and was treated by the best physicians, without avail. I was told to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before the first bottle was gone I was feeling better. I have taken four bottles, and an new era has been opened in my life." Mrs. SAM SING, CLARK, Cecilian, Kentucky.

Hood's PILLS cure all liver ills.

Carrie Orene King

Save the Children

By Purifying Their Blood

Hood's Sarsaparilla Makes Pure Blood, Cures Scrofula, Etc.

"My experience with Hood's Sarsaparilla has been very edifying. My little girl, five years old, had for four years a bad skin disease. Her arms and limbs would break out in a mass of sores, discharging yellow matter. She would scratch the eruptions as though it gave relief, and tear out the sores."

Two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla caused the eruptions to heal and the sores peeled off, after which the skin became soft and smooth. As a blood medicine

Hood's Sarsaparilla CURES

we believe Hood's Sarsaparilla has no equal and I recommend it. W. L. KIRK, Elkhart, Ind., U.S.A.

Hood's PILLS are the best family cathartics, gentle and effective. Try a box. 50 cents.

Whooping Cough.

There is no danger from this disease when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is freely given. It liquefies the tough mucus and aids its expectoration. It also lessens the severity and frequency of paroxysms of coughing, and insures a speedy recovery. There is not the least danger in giving the remedy to children or babies, as it contains no injurious substance. For sale by John M. Rose.

JUDGE AMOS DAVIS, WEST LIBERTY, KY.

—WITH—

Bettman, Bloom & Co., MANUFACTURERS OF CLOTHING.

96 West Pearl Street, CINCINNATI.

The trade of Kentucky merchants solicited and satisfaction guaranteed.

JOHN M. ROSE,

HAZEL GREEN, KY.

Is the only firm in the town which handles the justly celebrated

Boots and Shoes

from the wholesale house of

C. P. Tracy & Co.,

PORTSMOUTH, OHIO.

When you want the BEST footwear give him a call.

ANTI-RHEUMATIC

$2—RING—$2

A Speedy and Permanent Cure

For Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Gout, Lumbago and all other diseases where a general warming, quickening, strengthening and equalization of the circulation is required. It will last for years, gives no shock, and but a mild, soothing sensation in wearing it. No waiting a long time for results. It acts quickly, generally the first week, more frequently the first day, and sometimes even in the first hour its curative powers are felt. It is inexpensive, harmless in operation, while simple in application, entailing neither discomfort or inconvenience. Though marvelous in the results it has achieved, its seeming simplicity has the effect of causing many to doubt its virtues. But in many instances you will feel a very pleasant sensation the moment it is properly adjusted to your little finger. In proof of the above statement I will refer you to the following most estimable ladies and gentlemen:

J. W. Sparks, W. H. Phillips, Wm. Handy, E. Schneider, Mrs. Morton Funk, Mrs. G. B. Taylor, Sam Smith, J. W. Carroll, Ben Spears, David Arnold.

And a hundred others if necessary. Many of these would not take $1,000 for their ring and be compelled to do without one. They cost only $2. No other ring will answer for the same purpose. No medicine, no bad taste in your mouth, but a nice ring, pleasing sensation, and relief of an excruciating pain. Old folks become young and vigorous.

E. M. HILTON,

Nicholasville, Ky.

Lexington and Eastern Railway.

Time Table in Effect April 14th, 1895.

J. D. LIVINGSTON, CHAS. SCOTT, V. P. & Gen. Manager, Gen. Pass. Agent

WEST BOUND.

STATIONS. No. 1. Daily. No. 5. Sunday.

Lexington	0 10 30 am
Avon	11 10 02 am	3 35 pm
Winchester	20 9 42 am	3 15 pm
Fairlie	27 9 27 am	2 00 pm
Indian Fields	33 9 10 am	1 10 pm
Kay City	40 8 51 am	12 40 pm
Stanton	44 8 42 am	11 40 pm
Filson	53 8 27 am	10 48 am
Dundee	58 8 12 am	10 17 am
Natural Bridge	57 8 02 am	10 07 am
Torrent	62 7 54 am	9 35 am
Beattysville Junction	70 7 35 am	8 40 am
Three Forks City	74 7 23 am	8 00 am
Abol	82 7 02 am	7 16 am
Elkavans	85 6 52 am	7 00 am
Jackson	94 6 30 am	6 00 am

EAST BOUND.

STATIONS. No. 2. Daily. No. 6. Sunday.

Lexington	0 3 30 pm	6 30 am
Avon	11 2 25 pm	7 08 am
Winchester	20 3 15 pm	8 10 am
Fairlie	27 3 46 pm	9 05 am
Indian Fields	33 3 46 pm	9 10 am
Kay City	40 4 05 pm	11 45 am
Stanton	53 4 28 pm	12 10 pm
Filson	58 4 28 pm	12 14 pm
Dundee	55 4 45 pm	1 15 pm
Natural Bridge	57 4 50 pm	1 20 pm
Torrent	62 5 04 pm	2 00 pm
Beattysville Junction	70 5 38 pm	2 05 pm
Three Forks City	74 5 36 pm	2 25 pm
Abol	82 5 58 pm	4 12 pm
Elkavans	90 6 22 pm	4 50 pm
Jackson	94 6 30 pm	5 20 pm

No. 2, 3 and 4 arrive and depart from C. & O. depot Lexington; 5 and 6 from Freight depot at Newburg.

No. 3 and 4 run Sundays only. No. 3 going west, leaves Torrent at 4:30 p. m., and No. 4 going east, leaves Torrent at 10:10 a. m.

Do You Wear Pants?

IF SO, WEAR ONLY

"THE LION BRAND."

MANUFACTURED BY

KENTUCKY JEANS CLOTHING CO.,

LOUISVILLE, KY.

Every pair warranted.

VICTOR & BOGAERT,

Manufacturing Jeweler.

17 E. Short Street,

LEXINGTON, KY.

Diamonds, Watches and Jewelry.

Reliable Goods. Fair Dealing and

Bottom Prices. All Goods and Work

Guaranteed.

I. DINGFELDER,

WITH

J. M. Robinson, Norton & Co.

Importers and Jobbers of

DRY GOODS AND NOTIONS,

Nos. 587, 589 and 591—

West Main Street

LOUISVILLE, KY.

TO MERCHANTS ONLY.

W. R. NUNLEY, Mt. Sterling, Ky.,

REPRESENTING

HARBISON GATHRIGT,

LOUISVILLE, KY. Manufacturers of KEN-

TUCK SPRING AND ALL OTHER SADDLES,

Buggy, Break and all kinds of Harness.

The New Brass Staple Collar, The Greatest Thing Out.

As well as every other horse wear.

I am getting ready to start after spring order. Will reach you in plenty of time. However, if you have any special time to buy write me at Mt. Sterling. My trade big, I want it bigger. Buy from me and we'll both be happy. Respectfully,

W. R. NUNLEY.

MOST IN QUANTITY. BEST IN QUALITY.

WORMS!

WHITE'S CREAM

VERMIFUGE

Has led all WORMS. Sold in every

EVERY BOTTLE GUARANTEED.

MRS. HETTIE GREEN.
THE PICTURE OF AMERICA'S RICH-EST WOMAN.
...Gaily Nor a Miser—Will Tolerate
...Tolerant a Tolerant Nor a Fool.
Mrs. Hettie Green, the remarkable woman who handles with consum-mate skill a fortune of millions of dollars to thirty millions of dollars, mostly made by herself, has the most interesting personality,
the most striking characteristics,
all shown by the following extracts from an interview with her published in the New York Advertiser. After drawing a clever pen picture the writer says:
"Then I asked her a question that I asked of every successful person and never answered in the same way twice. It is a silly, insane, and old question, anyhow, but you must answer it."
"To what do you owe your success?"
Mrs. Green was silent for a moment and then she said:
"It is a peculiar question, and I think I can answer it. My father was a business man—a good man. When I was well along but younger than I am now,
I heard him lay down these principles:
"If you owe a man a dollar pay him a dollar—a good dollar—on the day you promised to pay.
Don't pay him a dollar and a quarter, and don't try to pay him ninety-nine cents. Give him the dollar. Then he will know that you are neither a thief nor a fool. If you find a man in your way who is dishonest get rid of him—quickly, if you can, but let him know that you are just.
This is not harshness; it is common justice to honest men, and it is proper justice to men who violate their faith.
"There was more than this," Mrs. Green went on, "but these principles alone form a good business creed, and, if you wish it, to earn more than anything else I know any degree of success has come to me."
"There are two things that I can not and will not abide!"
"A fool or a thief. They may abuse me, but they will not let me know it, and most of the time
I know it."
"Yet I am told you are lenient and kind as a rule, to your employees, Mrs. Green."
"I am just with them, and as a rule I get paid for the work in accordance with its value. Now, you read of me as a mean, grasping old woman. You have never heard of me giving away vast sums of charity. You have not seen my name at the head of donations of free this or free that."
"I will tell you what I did do, though," Mrs. Green went on. "I built houses in Chicago, blocks of them at a time, when men wanted work. I paid good wages, and the work was always there on payment. In the business managing of my affairs and in working in my charitable affairs I employ a great many men—yes, and women, too.
I make a good deal of money to pay those, but they are paid, each of them, as much as they are worth within my knowledge."
"And do you know," she said, "I don't work harder than any of them."
"But, then, you have the largest fortune, Mrs. Green," I ventured.
"Well! Well! Have it so," she said, with a smile. "But I think I am worth it."
This was incontrovertible!
When Mrs. Green passed, to another and different subject, upon which she spoke with some freedom and vigor.
I said to her: "Mrs. Green, in your opinion, are the property rights of women in this country secure? Or considered as they should be? Are the women discriminated against? Do they get the same courteous treatment in a court before a referee that men get?"
"Emphatically no," came the quick response. "They do not get the same treatment, at least from counsel. I have nothing to say against our Judges. They do their duty. But some of the laws that bind them are old and antiquated and should have been abolished long ago. They discriminate against women who have brains enough to mark out their own line of conduct in business. They hamper one at every turn."

And the woman in politics, Mrs.
Green? I asked.
"She is better off than in politics," was the reply. "She is better in her own home with her own children."
"Politics may sometimes help a man in business, but very seldom a woman. Men who run for office get in love with it. I do not quarrel with the women who want to vote, but I do not want to vote myself."
"Another thing I will say, I have never needed a vote in order to protect myself. I have handled my large interests largely myself, but not at all times. Yet they have not suffered. I have not bought politicians. I had no need to.
Remember, as I said before, I am not against a woman voting, if she wants to. I don't want to. Politicians, if you please to call them so, who study the interests of their own neighborhoods, find that railroad or other interests are the interests of their friends, and it is not at all necessary to buy them."
This is not a literal quotation. It is a condensation, but a fair one.
Of course, it was impossible to refrain from asking Mrs. Green what she thought of the "new woman," and her answer was delightfully naïve.
"The 'new woman' she said;
why, really, I haven't thought of her at all. I am an old woman of the old sort, you know."
The new woman is getting some hard knocks these days, and this is not the softest of them. Then Mrs. Green turned again to a subject on which she has touched before. It concerned women and their rights.
"I have told you before," she said, "that I am no politician and have no desire to vote. You asked me just now if I thought that the condition of woman is better now than it was."
"I answer that it is, almost beyond measure, and it is due to honest, earnest women who have worked for their sisters and helped them. If my life has not been cast in these lines it is because my duty has lain otherwise."
"And the rich, Mrs. Green," I asked, "have they, too, their wrongs, as the poor have?"
"I have practically answered that question before," was the reply.
"I spoke to you of the manner in which women are bullied and brow-beaten in court merely because they are women, because lawyers believe they have not the nerve to stand cross-examination. Nerve! Thank gracious!
I have it still got."
"A woman shrinks from going into court where she knows an acute lawyer is going to practically put her on a mental gridiron. She is held and bound down by certain forms of court etiquette. A lawyer may apply what may be torture to a woman of fine mental caliber, and she has no defense. The judge must allow the questions. It is his duty but it is not right in a general sense."
"Not," said Mrs. Green, "that I want any extra rights. I can take care of myself, but every woman is not built as I am."
This was said without a bit of boastfulness, but with the resolute manner of one who may honestly say:
"I know myself and my strength."
And this you will admit is more than most of us know.
"I want you to fully grasp my opinions," Mrs. Green went on. "I do not talk to newspaper men every day, though I am always glad to see them. But you know that I was threatened by a certain newspaper, or more properly, perhaps, its misrepresentative, with a sarcastic article and with the publication of a picture of me in line with the article.
"I have spoken to you of art, have I not? Some of the persons who write and talk of me do not think that I know anything of art.
Yet I have seen something of it,
and have known more than one great artist. I have seen art as it is in Paris, in London, in Munich, in Holland, and there is some real art there as you no doubt know.

For that matter, there is real art in America, if it is young. It will grow, if properly encouraged.
Copley was an American and an artist. But I do not wish to rhapsoize."
Mrs. Green went on to say that she had known—some of them personally—most of the boys of the past generation—Bryant, Longfellow and the rest. What is more, she read them. It may, perhaps, be interesting to you to know that Mrs. Green does not care overmuch for Miss Harradan and her "Ships That Pass in the Night," with its impossible hero and heroine. Nor has Mrs. Green the Ibsen fad. She is not of that sort.
She is—well, she is "Hetty" Green. That covers the whole matter. If I wrote a volume I could say no more.
A Pioneer's Recommendation.
J. W. Venable, of Downey, a pioneer of Los Angeles county, Cal., says: "Whenever I am troubled with a pain in the stomach or my diarrhea I use Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.
I have used it for years, know it to be a reliable remedy, and recommend it to every one." For sale by J. M. Rose.
$100 Reward $100.
The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in their powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure.
Send for list of testimonials.
Address, F. J. CUREY & Co.,
Toledo, Ohio.
Far Surpasses
Anything Known.
Dr. A. F. JENNINGS, writes:
"Candor compels me to say that the efficacy of Dr. Fenner's Blood and Liver Remedy and Nerve Tonic is CURING SO MANY DISEASES
and with such promptness, far surpasses anything I had ever seen with or known of during a 20 years extensive practice of medicine.
It operates on the causes of these diseases,
hence they yield of necessity."
A. F. JENNINGS, M. D.
Dr. Fenner's Blood and Liver Remedy and Nerve Tonic never fails.
It is a Sarsaparilla-Mandrake-Prince's Pine Alternative, Nerve Tonic and Restorative Compound.
Cures biliousness, headaches, constipation, dyspepsia, irritability, sleeplessness
"the blues," swollen glands,
All blood impurities, skin diseases,
scurvy, ague, dizziness, "dull and achy,"
"fired," stomach and bowel disorders,
blootches, pimples, moths, syphilis,
Impairment of nerves, offensive breath.
It does these great cures, because it physically from the blood, liver and tissues all the impurities, "ashes and debris"
as it were,
Without weakening but all the while strengthening instead.
It causes the liver to throw off its bile.
It cleans out the entire alimentary canal, stomach and bowels alike, ridding them of all effete, offensive and slimy mucus, worms and other vermin,
Restoring sleep, appetite, flesh, strength, comfort, freshness and bloom—in a word health.
Including self-poise to the nervous system, and both sweetness of breath and disposition.
It is speedy in its action, improvement beginning as soon as the first dose is swallowed.
And as certain as the law of gravitation.
Note the high standard of testimonials in circular at drug stores and around bottles.
They are such as only the highest order or merit could command—voluntary offerings from the cottage, princely palaces and offices of State.
Recording cures of cases more grave and complicated than ever before successfully reached by medicine. Sample Free.
Satisfaction guaranteed.
Mothers: One-fourth of all the children born die within the first year. Save your child by keeping its stomach and bowels healthy by the use of Dr. Fenner's Blood and Liver Remedy, the best child laxative and corrective known.
Dr. Fenner's Soothing Syrup.
Allays irritation and gives refreshing sleep.
Dr. Fenner's Worm Syrup. "Brought 120 worms from our child. See circular, Kildu, O."
Dr. Fenner's Family Salt-Rubbing Ointment.
Best for skin eruptions, Piles, Sores, Cuts, etc.
For sale by John M. Rose and Mrs. Len Day, Hazel Green, Ky.

J. TAYLOR DAY,

Dealer in General Merchandise
on a Cash Basis.

Largest Stock. Lowest Prices.

HOFFMAN'S

Insurance Agency.

FIRE. LIFE. ACCIDENT.

The Safest, Best and MOST RELIABLE Agency
in Eastern Kentucky. Rates Reasonable.

ASSETS OVER..... $260,000.00.
LOSSES PAID..... 275,000.00.

Address A. HOFFMAN, Mt. Sterling, Ky.

BUY THE

Stempel Fire Extinguisher

—AND—

SAVE YOUR HOUSE FROM FIRE.

CHEAP, SIMPLE,
RELIABLE, HANDY

Insurance may cover actual loss of goods burned but it does not pay for time and trade lost while re-establishing business. PREVENT THE FIRE WITH A STEMPEL

SPENCER COOPER, Hazel Green, Ky., agent for Wolfe and Morgan Counties. Call and see the Little Wonder.

H. & G. FEDER, & PRICES

165 & 167 Race Street, CINCINNATI, O.

The leading house for FANCY DRY GOODS, FURNISHING GOODS and NOTIONS. Always have Big Drives. Special attention to Mail Orders.

THE HERALD

is only $1 a year, and it is acknowledged to be the best local paper published in Kentucky. Subscribe now, and secure all the good things it will contain this year.

Louisville Tin and Stove Co.,

621 W. Main Street, LOUISVILLE, KY.

Solicits orders from merchants for

Tinware, Stoves, Ranges, Stove-pipe, Elbows, Mantels, Grates, Holloware, Cutler, &c.
Send for complete catalogue and price-list.

TRIMBLE BROTHERS,

WHOLESALE GROCERS,

MT. STERLING, KY.

ELKHART CARRIAGE AND HARNESS MFG. CO.

Have Sold to Customers For 25 Years, and then the dealers' profits. We are the oldest and largest manufacturers in America. Selling this way, also subject to approval. We pay freight both ways if not satisfactory. Everything warranted. Why pay an agent $10 to $20 to order for you? Write your order, stating free-take all the risk of damage in shipping.

HARNESS.
Spring Wagons, $30 to $45. Guaranteed as well for $60 to $75. It is the only kind of Road Wagon. Suits with four harness, $60 to $75.
Same as well for $80 to $100. Top Wagons as low as $35. Photographs as low as $60.

CARRIAGES.
Styles, Single, Double and Four. Riding saddle, Bridles and Fly Nets. Send a cent in stamp to pay postage. List upon catalogue.

W. B. PRATT, Secretary, Elkhart, Ind.

C. D. MOORE

WITH
BEN WILLIAMSON & CO.,
Hardware, Cutlery, &c.
CATLETTSBURG, KY.
Sole agency for South Bend Plows.

CHARLES UHL,

WITH REED, PEEBLES & Co.
WHOLESALE
Dry Goods & Notions,
PORTSMOUTH, O.

FOR PRINTING,

CATALOGUES, MENUS,
LETTER-HEADS, ENVELOPES,
Etc., etc.

Anything that can be written up with type,
ink and paper, call at

THE HERALD OFFICE

HAZEL GREEN, KY.

ROBT. W. SMITH,

WITH
Carter Dry Goods Co.
(Successors to Carter Bros. & Co.)
Importers and Jobbers of
DRY GOODS AND NOTIONS.
LOUISVILLE, KY.

Patronage of the mountain merchants is most respectfully solicited.

SHAVE, HAIR-CUT, or SHAMPOO

When in Mt. Sterling, and you need anything of the kind, call on

LEE & FISHER,

proprietor of the
BARBER SHOP,
South Main Street, under Green Clay & Chas. A. Co. Try Him.

NEIGHBORING NOTES.

Homes of News Gathered by Busy Herald Correspondents

That Its Readers May Be Pleased on What Is Being Said and Done.

A RESUME OF THE PAST WEEK

(If there's a hole in a' your coats,
I s'pose ye lent it to
A chile's amang you taking notes,
And faith he'll prunt it.)

WOLFE COUNTY.

Campton Currencey.

Bro. May, of Nicholas county, preached an interesting sermon at the M. E. church Sunday night to a large and appreciative audience.

Dr. S. G. Spaulding, of Kansas, was in town a few days last week, and informed us that he had located at Glencairn to practice his profession.

Robert G. Rose, of Lee City, candidate for the legislature, was in our midst last week, and many were the smiles that bedecked his honest countenance on learning that his prospects were so promising in this neck of the woods. Mr. Rose is not at all a stranger in this neighborhood, neither is he destitute of friends, as will be proven beyond a reasonable doubt after the 27th. Of course his opponent is a very popular man, a Nancy Hanks sort of fellow, but after all he is, in our opinion, a "beatable" sort of fellow, that is capable of getting beat. We are ready to admit that Mr. Rose is not a scheming politician or trickster, and that he has never made a livelihood by any means that would cause the world to frown upon him or that would cast a stigma upon his escutcheon. But do these traits disqualify a man to occupy a place in the Kentucky legislature? No. We want a man to represent us who is solid, who cannot be "wooded by each ogan wind," whose loyalty and faithfulness is unquestionable, whose interests are identical with the peoples interest, and not to our detriment. A temperate man and a moral man. A man that will cast his vote for senator for the man that will be most acceptable to his constituents and to himself. This man, dear readers, is Robert G. Rose, of Lee City. See him run. K.T.

MORGAN COUNTY.

Caney Callings.

Jerry Stacy, who was reported some time ago as having fever, is up again.

The corps of railroad engineers got the road located at Walnut Grove last week.

Sanford Day and family were visiting their parents Saturday and Sunday last.

Marion Gevedon, while husking corn in his crib one day last week, was bitten by a copperhead snake and is suffering very much, but is some better at this writing.

J. F. Gevedon and family and Josie Gevedon and wife, Miss Mary Gevedon, Malone Lykins and J. P. Haney were guests of R. E. and J. T. Caudill last Saturday and Sunday.

David Lewis, the noted thrasher of Morgan, is on Caney threshing. Wheat is extra good here. R. D. and J. T. Caudill sowed 11 bushels and threshed out 140 bushels. Can any of you beat that?

Ezel Evolutions.

G. W. Good will teach the Flat Gap school near this place.

Mrs. Sarah Woolery and daughter Myrtle are on the sick list.

Miss Clara Peratt has just returned from a protracted visit at Mt. Sterling.

Hon. John E. Cooper, H. C. Turner and James H. Swango were in town last week.

J. S. Nickell and wife are visiting his daughter Minnie at Weston, West Virginia.

Mrs. Thomas Jones and family, of Mt. Sterling, who were here last week, are now visiting at Hazel Green.

William Brooks, while running a horse near Wellington, in Menifee county, was thrown and badly hurt about the head.

Elders H. F. Danaghty and W. T. Hall are conducting a meeting in the Craft settlement, north of Ezel. They will preach here Sunday night, July 28.

Excursion to Natural Bridge.

The Lexington & Eastern railway will run excursions from both ends of the line on Wednesday, August 7, to Natural Bridge. There will be two bands of music. Trost's celebrated band of sixteen pieces has been secured for the occasion. Two grand concerts will be given, one at 11:00 and one at 8:30. Low rates will be made from all stations to Natural Bridge, and every one will have an opportunity to enjoy the fine music. Admission coupon will be attached to all tickets, which will include the privilege of the dancing pavilion at the grounds.

Some persons never look over the fence that divides their own little affairs from all creation and consequently they have not heard of the wonderful cures effected by the new remedy known as Ramon's Tonic Liver Pills (and Peppets). They mark a new era in the cure of sick headache, biliousness, sour stomach, etc. Ask your druggist about this. You can secure a three weeks treatment for 25c, including both the pills and the tonic pellets. Try a free sample.

THE WOODSIDE APART.

BY LOU SWENAM.

It nestles close in loveliness
Against the mountain's breast,
Against the sunny age-old hill,
Where golden sunbeams rest.

The Palo Colorado creek
Below it, creeps and starts,
And sends a music up the hill
To thrill the woodland hearts.

Beside its southern edge a spring,
While sparkling on its way,
Is crooning softly to the bees
That sip the crystal spray.

The apricots turn, day by day,
A deeper shade of red,
The plums their fruits will soon disclose,
The apples' joys be told.

The soft strawberries droop their heads,
The berries ripen grow,
And wearing yet a deeper blush,
They fall an easy prey.

The heavy pears are turning brown—
The berries ripen grow,
A shade of black and purple, now
Replace their scarlet glow.

And downy damask cheeks are seen
Between the white-washed colonies,
Stand jeweled cherry trees,
With fruit jet black and ruby red,
The vision sure to please.

The fragrant breath of magnonette
Comes purring up the stair,
To meet the fragrance from the woods
That whisp'ring zephyrs bear.

But sweetest yet of all the sweets
No matter where you roam,
Is treasured there is every here
In snowy wane comb.

From purest nectar of the sage
That blooms upon the hill,
By busy little workers stored
With energetic will.

I stoop to watch them passing in
And out, and forth,
And wish my soul could wake like theirs
To duties of duty.

From early morn till evening's shade,
O'er hill and dale they pass,
To gather in the harvest sweet
With melody I love.

When he who tends the magnonette
And prunes the fruitful trees,
Who tills the verdant garden patch
And works among the bees,

Has passed beyond this world, of ours,
Who then will take his place?
Who'll tend the "Woodside Apart?"
His daily toll to face?

July 15, 1894.

The Carlisle Mercury has relegated the discussion of finance to the rear and gone in to win after this fashion:

How with—
Hardin and Haney
And Tyler, too
Ford and Fortune,
And Norman do?

What say you of—
Swango and Hendrick,
Hale, Thompson and Nall,
Who'll lead the grand march,
At the election this fall?

They are the big nine—
Our friends should remember,
Who will write into victory
This coming November.

They come from the North,
South and West,
And rank among men
As the truest and best.

And will give their opponents
A genuine tussle—
So keep up your courage,
With your eye on the gun—
And join in the fracas
When they open the fun!

Hints to Letter Writers.

First give your town, county, state and date of letter.

Then write name, town and state of him to whom you are writing.

Have the address matter well in mind. Business letters should always be brief and answered promptly.

Letters sent by hand should be left unsealed.

Let all your letters be civil in tone. Never give way to passion.

Never write an anonymous letter. It is cowardly.

Always enclose a stamp in letters asking for information.

Make your sentences short and use the dictionary freely.

So keep up your courage, with your eye on the gun—
And join in the fracas
When they open the fun!

Do not introduce social matters in letters of business.

When writing for publication, write on one side only. If not your paper will usually find its way to the waste basket.

Read your letter carefully when finished and see that nothing is omitted. Then sign your name in full.

Make the address on the envelope legible, giving town, county and state. Put the stamp on the right hand upper corner, seal the letter and it is then ready for the postman.

"Incurable."

We know that it sounds quackish to talk about the Electropoise curing incurable diseases, but bear in mind the fact that it is the old treatment that has pronounced the case incurable. We do not make the claim that we can cure all incurable diseases, but we do maintain with all earnestness that a case pronounced incurable by your family physician is an splendid field for the operation of the Electropoise. It may be just the treatment necessary, and is quite likely to be so. If it fails, this is no argument against the "Poise," but in such a case, the fact of the physician's statement is proven to be true. But many of the patient who has been given up by his physician who has again received life through treatment of the Electropoise.

ENGLISH KITCHEN

12 W. SHORT STREET, LEXINGTON, KY.

Regular Meals, 25 cents. Meals to order at all hours. Breakfast from 5 to 9 a. m. Dinner 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. Supper from 5 to 9 p. m.

Oysters, Lamb Fries, Fish and Chicken a Specialty.

GUS. LUIGART, Proprietor.

List of Election Officers.

The following is a list of election officers for the Democratic primary to be held July 27, 1895, in Wolfe county, for the purpose of nominating a Democratic candidate for Representative in the 91st district.

Hazel Green Precinct—W. T. Swango, Clerk; J. T. Pieratt, Sheriff; John E. Brooks and James Lacy, Judges.

Red River Precinct—Jonathan Carroll, Clerk; Henry Patrick, Sheriff; Robert Anderson and Elias Shockley, Judges.

Clifty Precinct—Wm. Toliver, Clerk; Remy Culbertson, Sheriff; Frank Bolin and Silas Murphy, Judges.

Stillwater Precinct—John Tester, Clerk; Steve Collier, Sheriff; Isaac Combs and George Sally, Judges.

Campton Precinct—G. B. Stamper, Clerk; Sampson Grier, S. B. Smith and Granville Evans, Judges.

Holly Precinct—Henry Elkins, Jr., Clerk; J. P. Taubee Sheriff; Jonathan Elkins and David Banks, sen., Judges.

Fourth Precinct—Joel Cox, Clerk; Bill Bush, Sheriff; David Spencer and Jesse Adams, Judges.

Advertising Fakes.

The publisher of an Indiana exchange tells some plain truths in the following: "The editor can always write more cheerfully of the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his columns are liberally filled with the advertisements of the business houses. No editor can advocate the doctrine of laying from some merchants unless the home merchants show they are interested in catering to the home trade by advertising in the columns of the local newspaper. It is deplorable that the business interests of the town when his